Welcome to the Manifestation Babe podcast. My name is Kathrin Zenkina. And I'm a manifestation expert, master mindset coach, and multiple seven-figure entrepreneur. I'm obsessed with helping you achieve everything that you once thought was impossible. If you're looking to massively uplevel your life, your finances, your relationships, your productivity, and success, then you have come to the right place. My goal in this podcast is to help you see the infinite potential within yourself to be, do, and have anything that your heart desires. Think of this podcast as your weekly dose of mindset development, to help you maximize who you are, and where you're going. Leave it to me to provide you with the tools, the resources, the strategies, and teaching that you need to manifest a reality wilder than your wildest dreams. I know we're about to have so much fun together. So, thank you so much for pushing play today. And now, let's begin. Hello gorgeous souls. And welcome back to the Manifestation Babe podcast. I have a question for you. Do you have an epic manifestation story? If so, I want to feature you in my new book. So there's been a project on my heart that I've been internally squealing about from excitement for a few months now. My team knows that I have been asking them for permission to record this podcast. Because we had to get our ducks in a row, we had to get our system prepared for this, we had to get everything prepared. So that if there is an influx, actually not "if", I'm manifesting there "to be" an influx of a bunch of your stories. We wanted to make sure that we had the psychological, spiritual, and physical space to be able to process everything that is about to happen. And now comes the part where your contribution matters, because really, this book is about you. And this book is for you. So to give you guys some background context of why I'm so excited about this book, is because well, back in the day when I first discovered the law of attraction and manifestation, which was from the book "The Secret," I was clearly very fascinated with the whole concept. Otherwise, I would not be here today. And for the most part, even though I was able to apply the law of attraction almost immediately into my life, I manifested my very first thing pretty much a couple of hours after I read the book, and it was super exciting. But as you know, when you are learning to manifest, some things are going to seem to be bigger than others. And we have all these stories and beliefs around what is easy to manifest and what isn't. And so for the bigger things in my life that went beyond getting a good grade in school, I used to go on these forums. And I remember "thesecret.tv", which was their official website, I'm pretty sure it still exists. I honestly haven't visited the website for a long time. But there used to be, at least back in the day, a forum where people would be posting blog posts, featuring other people's success stories with the law of attraction. And I remember specifically going to these forums and reading these stories over and over again, and finding as many as I possibly could. And I remember there being hundreds, so I'm pretty sure I didn't read every single one. But each day, I would find a topic that really spoke to me, and a topic that was surrounding whatever it was that I was currently focusing on, and I would read people's stories. And these manifestation stories would really give me the hope, the inspiration, and the motivation that I needed for those days when I was being the most skeptical of the process. You know, those days when you just need an extra push of faith, an extra push of trust and just knowing and believing without a shadow of a doubt that this process actually works. And, you know, there are so many benefits to this. It's not just for people who are skeptical or having a hard time believing in this. This could also be for people who do have mastery with manifestation and are continuously manifesting these epic things into their life. And they just need an extra dose of motivation. Or they are looking to these blog posts in order to just keep that faith and maintain that faith. So whatever it is that, you know - people would go to those blog posts, for me was really when I did not believe in this process. So, the project that's been on my heart for a while now was to create a book that is inspired by the very same concept. And I've been thinking about this for years, actually. But it wasn't until this year where I was like, "Okay, guys, I think that we could actually do this." And I think that up until now we've received so many incredible mind-blowing stories in our email inbox, in my DMs, in the comments, in my Facebook group, in my students Facebook group, in my big Facebook group, to the point where I'm like, "Okay, I think that we have enough content to do our own thing." And instead of just having this thing live online, I really envisioned this to be this incredible book, where people take it everywhere with them, whether it is on the toilet, whether it's there in their living room, a story that they read every single morning, a story that they read before bed, a story that they read on an airplane. I see this thing being sold at the shops at the airport, when people are shopping for books, I don't know if that's what you do, but that's definitely what I do. Every time. I go to the airport, I got to get a new book. And so whatever that book is, it's my book of the flight. And so I really envisioned this to be a treasured piece of faith and hope in a book. That's the best way that I can explain it. And whenever anybody needs an extra dose of hope and inspiration, they'll open the book, and they will read one of your stories. So this is about you guys, to show them that with faith, belief, and trust in the process, manifestation absolutely works and anything is possible. And I can't think of a better time than now to put this out there. Right now, people need the most hope. Right now, people are in fear. Right now, it seems like there's absolutely nothing that's certain. And people are forgetting that the power has always lived within them. And the power to create their life was always inside of their minds and in their hearts, right? The tools, the resources, the resourcefulness, whatever it is that they needed to create the world that they wanted to live in was always inside of them. And I think that right now more than ever before, people need this book. And so I am looking for your stories, and in order to submit your story to fit into this book, it must fit the following criteria. So I'm looking for a story around something epic that you have manifested into your life. It could be a child, it could be your spouse, it could be money, it could be some crazy story around how you manifested a vacation home in Italy, or it could be something around how you finally manifested the pregnancy that you've been conceiving for 4, 5, or 10 years and then finally that miracle came about. Or maybe this is about building your dream business, maybe this is about manifesting a specific amount of money. Whatever it is, there is no limit to this and I see myself categorizing your stories on different topics, so that if someone wants a certain story around a certain topic just depending on what we get, this is going to be created as we go along. So I don't even know what the final product is going to look like. However, in order to start this project, and in order to be in, on it together, I need your stories. And so I need your stories to be submitted to book@manifestationbabe.com. And the criteria that I have for this is that it must be well-written and it must be book-worthy because it's going to be in a book, right? So this is not just an email you're writing. Please take your time to make it as grammatically correct as possible and make it as juicy as possible. And if you guys need help, I'm pretty sure we're gonna have editors who can help with this process. So don't worry about getting your own editor, just do your best and we'll take care of the rest. And we're looking for something that is at least a couple of pages long because the way I envision it is very similar to Chicken Soup for the Soul, where every single story is a chapter, and so it has to be long enough to fill a short chapter. So if your story isn't that long, just give as much detail as possible, and really paint the picture of what your life was like before the process, the manifestation process, and then what ended up happening. And I'm looking for stories that go into the depth of explaining the synchronicities that happen in order for you to manifest whatever it is that you want. And then it doesn't have to be, and this is so important, it does not have to be a manifestation story from a

Manifestation Babe program. I know that a lot of my students are going to get in on this and that is awesome and literally, there's no limit to this. I want as many stories as possible. So, it doesn't matter where you learn how to manifest, it doesn't matter for us, whether it is from me or from someone else. Just the concept is really what's important here. It's about faith. It's about using the law of attraction in your favor. It's about using manifestation in your favor. And so I encourage you to share the tools that you used rather than the program you used. So instead of being like, "Well I've learned from so and so to do this," just explain what you did. Was it a vision board? Was it affirmations? Was it a check that you wrote for yourself? Was it just practicing feeling the feelings? Was it meditation? And so I feel like while you're sharing your story, also incorporating the teaching mechanism behind it of what you use and how other people can use it. I think will make the most powerful book ever and so to submit your story, submit it to book@manifestationbabe.com. And I will personally be reading every single story and selecting you to be part of this incredible book that I envision people taking with them everywhere. And I cannot wait to read your stories and feature you in this book. This is going to be so amazing. As you can tell I'm so excited about it. I literally can't wait to read your stories, I'm going to be going through this personally myself. That's why it took us forever to finally do this process. Because we had to get ready for it. And if you guys have any questions, don't ask your questions to book@manifestation.com. Ask your questions to hello@manifestation.com because as I'm recording this episode I have no idea since we've never done this program or this project before. I can't in advance kind of anticipate your questions. So if I miss something as I'm talking here, as I'm free-flowing, just ask to hello@manifestation.com. And one of my lovely team members will answer your question. And then when you're ready to submit your story, it's going to be book@manifestationbabe.com. I literally cannot wait, this is so freaking exciting. I can't wait to feature you in this book, and if you are featured, you're going to get a free copy, by the way. I'm gonna send you a signed copy, because I don't think you should pay for your own story in your own book. So that's gonna be my gift back to you, and maybe I'll throw in something else in there too. Alright you guys, until the next episode, I am looking forward to this. I love you guys so much, mwah, have the best day. Bye. Thank you so much for tuning into today's episode.
